

people say the small mouth is more aggressive The largemouth bass live in swamps, bays and all above water, mostly in shallow water there is more cover for their nest. The juvenile largemouth eat mostly small food like water bugs, shrimp and snails. The adult largemouth bass eat small fish like bluegill, sunfish, crabs, frogs and snakes.
The largemouth bass are preyed by great blue heron, larger bass, channel catfish, American eel. The large mouth bass young and adults are targeted by the bold eagle. But for the largemouth bass you can use minnow bait or plastic worms also other plastic bait like jigs, crickets.

Ernie James Rodriguez

5th Grade Florida