

oxygen-depleted polluted waters.

When the jellyfish are alive, they don't help to clean polluted water but, the mucus from them can make a good fertilizer. The filters can get rid of microplastic pollutants in the water.